

Class Sessions 6 & 7: Designing and Developing Your Lesson

The video brings a well detailed explanation of the final project. We must design a web-based lesson about distance education. The first step is to identify the topic I would like my lesson to be about. After I choose it, I will be able to identify the goal, learning objectives, and the audience. All three will determine the media and technology I will use in delivering the lesson. The lesson plan should describe all the lesson activities and it should also include the assessment that will be used to evaluate students. Once the lesson plan is completed, it must be submitted for peer review before submitting for grading.

After watching the video, I have a better understanding on how the final project should look like. I must decide the topic for the final project so I can begin planning the lesson plan. This project will be a great opportunity for me to learn how to create a web-based lesson.
